Conditions of Entry

The Sentinel acknowledges that these are challenging times, and we commit to maintaining the highest possible standards with respect to the safety and confidence of all guests.

Failure to follow these Conditions of Entry can result in a guest or guests being asked to leave the property. No refund.

- Guests will take personal responsibility for maintaining physical distancing of 2 M at all times.
- Guests will agree to a two-night minimum stay.
- Reservations will be cash-less. All reservations will be completed in full electronically in advance.
- The Sentinel reserves the right to limit the maximum number of guests.
- Guests agree to sign a waiver upon arrival, releasing The Sentinel of any liability in the event they should become ill with Covid-19.
- Guests will agree to answer questions pertaining to their health. If a person is experiencing loss of smell, fever, chills, new or worsening cough, shortness of breath, new muscle aches or headache, sore throat, or have travelled outside Canada in the last 14 days, they could be denied entry.
- Guests will assume personal responsibility for themselves as well as for their children (if applicable) for disinfecting/cleaning any and all shared space areas.
- Sharing Rooms - guests who are not family members who choose to share a room at The Sentinel will release The Sentinel of any liability in the event they become ill with Covid-19.
- Guests agree that if they are a participant in a group retreat or event, they are personally responsible in instances when physical distancing may prove challenging, and take full responsibility for their choices and the resulting consequences, including contracting Covid-19.
